Notice of Possible Fee Increase on October 1, 2002

If a reply to a "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" is filed in the Office on or after October 1, 2002, then the amount due may be higher than that set forth in the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" since there may be an increase in fees effective on October 1, 2002. See Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees for Fiscal Year 2003: Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 67 Fed. Reg. 30634, 30636 (May 7, 2002). Although a change to the amount of the publication fee is not currently proposed for October 2002, if the issue fee or publication fee is to be paid on or after October 1, 2002, applicant should check the USPTO web site for the current fees before submitting the payment. The USPTO Internet address for the fee schedule is: <http://www.uspto.gov/main/howtofees.htm>.

If the issue fee paid is the amount shown on the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due," but not the correct amount in view of any fee increase, a "Notice to Pay Balance of Issue Fee" will be mailed to applicant. In order to avoid processing delays associated with mailing of a "Notice to Pay Balance of Issue Fee," if the response to the Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) due form is to be filed on or after October 1, 2002 (or mailed with a certificate of mailing on or after October 1, 2002), the issue fee paid should be the fee that is required at the time the fee is paid. If the issue fee was previously paid, and the response to the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" includes a request to apply a previously-paid issue fee to the issue fee now due, then the difference between the issue fee amount at the time the response is filed and the previously paid issue fee should be paid. See Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, Section 1308.01 (Eighth Edition, August 2001).

Questions relating to issue and publication fee payments should be directed to the Customer Service Center of the Office of Patent Publication at (703) 305-8283.

DETAILED ACTION

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

✓ Cancel non-elected claims 8-20, 31-33, 41-43. (See interview summary for details of restriction requirement.)

✓ Amend title: change from, “[SEMICONDUCTOR PROCESSING METHODS OF FORMING TRANSISTORS, SEMICONDUCTOR PROCESSING METHODS OF FORMING DYNAMIC RANDOM ACCESS MEMORY CIRCUITRY, AND RELATED INTEGRATED CIRCUITRY]” to “A PLURALITY OF TRANSISTORS HAVING DIFFERENT ACTIVE AREA WIDTHS AND DIFFERENT THRESHOLD VOLTAGES DEFINED BY STI”

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 34-40 and 44-50 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

In reference to claim 34, Nitayama ('079) teaches an assembly comprising:

A plurality of active areas having widths defined by STI regions of no greater than about one micron at least some of the widths being different (Fig.4B (STI see also Col.7, lines: 25-35); and Gate lines disposed over the plurality of active areas to provide individual transistors, (Fig.4B (102 W)).

However, Nitayama fails to teach wherein the gate lines of the individual transistors whose widths are different having different threshold voltages (TV) from one another. On Col.7, lines:

45-55 Nitayama teaches implanting impurities into the channel region in order to tailor threshold voltage, however fails to teach wherein the threshold voltages are different.

Doong et al ('081) and Puchner et al ('620) both teach the well known principle that STI and the corresponding active area widths may be manipulated to control the threshold voltage of transistors (Doong- Col.3, lines: 45-60 and Puchner –Col.1, lines: 35-45), however both fail to teach manipulating different widths of STIs and corresponding active areas upon the same substrate to create several transistors each with a corresponding different threshold voltage. Rather uniform threshold voltages are suggested. Consequently, prior art fails to anticipate applicant's claim language. All independent claims contain this allowable subject matter and claims 34-40 and 44-50 are allowed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
